FEMALE OWNED AND OPERATED COMPANY BUILT ON A CORE BELIEF:

Women shouldn't feel uncomfortable outdoors when they need to pee. Our goal is to make the process easy so that you can enjoy your adventures and focus on achieving your goals.

WHAT MAKES OUR ACTIVEWEAR SPECIAL?

In addition to offering a solution to an age old problem, we are a company that is owned and operated by women, creating solutions for women.

Why is this important?

Because we know problems that women face from fear of the zipper being safe to wanting activewear that feels and looks good. Of course, not all women have the same concerns and desires, and that is why we have asked numerous women on the way to development of Zip Hers about what matters to them. It is only after creating a product that answered their concerns that we put our seal of approval on our designs.

We strive to WOW our customers.

We are about more than just offering a solution. We are excited about building a sisterhood of support. We go above and beyond to make sure our customers know how much we love them!

INSPIRATION FOR ZIP HERS

The idea of Zip Hers was the result of both my years of running marathons and my hiking excursions. For a runner, timing is VERY important. We often train to beat our previous personal best times. One hurdle that can hinder this goal is waiting in line for the outdoor portacan. While men can easily find numerous places to pee, women have to wait in long lines. Tick. Tick. Tick. Every moment feels like torture. This frustration had been on my mind for years, and then the lightbulb went off when I was hiking the Grand Canyon Rim to Rim expedition! A female friend and hiker in the expedition experienced a moment of unintended self exposure as she tried to discreetly "use the restroom." Her embarrassment and the continual jokes from some of the male hikers, fueled my passion to find solutions for both of these related issues. As women, we shouldn't have to be sidetracked from our goals and adventures. That is why I began the path of solving this issue. With years of work and determination, I miraculously found women who helped me create Zip Hers activewear. These amazing women all were and continue to be intricately involved in our brilliant Zip Hers team.
